What is the growth rate of Bess-PV & solar & storage? It showed annual growth rates of 197%, mainly driven by the massive expansion of the residential battery segment. Last year, Czech households installed 910 MWh of solar & storage, the highest BESS-PV attachment rate in Europe (94%). This record level has been achieved thanks to the very well-established support of the New Green Savings Programme. What are the implications of falling Bess prices? We heard from system integrator, developer and EPC delegates at the Energy Storage Summit EU in London last month about the implications of falling BESS prices. As Energy-Storage.news reported last month, global prices for battery energy storage systems (BESS) have been on a downward trend since early , having shot up in . How many GWh of Bess capacity did Europe install in ? In , Europe installed 17.2 GWh of new BESS capacity, with a 94% year-on-year market surge and marking the third year in a row of doubling the annual market (see Fig. 1). Will residential batteries provide 97% of the Bess market in ? Amid exceptionally high attachment rates above 90% and continued financial support for the household segment, in residential batteries will provide 97% of the country's BESS market, which is expected to reach 1.1 GWh (see Fig. 34). In early , the price of residential BESS offered to end consumers in Europe ranged widely, from EUR400 to more than EUR1,200 per kilowatt-hour (kWh) (Exhibit 2).
